Poulton-le-Fylde.

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen,

I have the honour to present to you the Annual Report of the Medical Officer of Health for the year 1968.

During the year, the health of the area remained satisfactory. The vital statistics for the area were satisfactory and with the exception of an outbreak of measles and an outbreak of dysentery affecting mainly school children, the prevalence of infectious diseases remained low.

My thanks again are due to my colleagues in the Health Department for their loyalty and assistance.

To you, the Chairman, and members of the Health Committee, my appreciation of the encouragement and support afforded to me.

Yours faithfully,

J.E.Morris,

Medical Officer of Health.

Public Health Department,

Queensway,

Poulton-le-Fylde,

Lancashire.

Mr. Chairman & Gentlemen,

Annual Report of the Public Health Inspector for the year of 1968

During the year, the Department made a total of 2,135 visits to premises in the district covering the whole range of Public Health and Housing work.

The work included House Improvement Grants, Meat and Poultry control, Office, Shops and Food Hygiene Inspections, and varied Public Health and Housing complaints.

During the year, 53 informal notices were served after the discovery of nuisances and defects in the district, and 3 Statutory notices were served where no progress was made after the serving of informal notices.

The Department dealt with the spreading of poultry manure by a local farmer on adjacent land, and at the time of my visit, the smell was so vile that it was impossible for any normal resident to remain in their homes. On inspection I was able to discover that the poultry manure had been allowed to accumulate for a period of 30 days before spreading on the land and in this time had putrefied to such an extent that spreading on the land would give rise to an immediate and vile smell.

The farmer was advised accordingly regarding the regular removal of such manure, and the use of an industrial deodoriser for the reduction of the smell at source.

During the summer months complaints were received regarding the noise from a local club, caused by singing and the playing of musical instruments which were a nuisance to occupiers of nearby premises.

The complaints were duly investigated, and in July, an Abatement Notice was served on the Club to carry out the necessary works of soundproofing and sound reduction. Advice had been given to the Club Committee in regard to this matter earlier in the year, but no noise reduction was forthcoming, and it was found that ventilation in these premises was on a 'hit and miss basis' by use of open windows, and, therefore, in the summer months the noise was quite unbearable, both in the main street and in the homes of the complainants. The solution to this problem was accepted by the Club and the windows concerned were glazed completely and satisfactory mechanical ventilators provided.

In the latter half of the year, it was necessary to report to the Committee, contraventions of the Food Hygiene Regulations in connection with one of the bakehouses in the district. There were 14 contraventions including unsatisfactory lighting, inadequate washing facilities and sinks, unsatisfactory construction of floors, walls and ceilings.

These premises had obviously been in operation for many years, and there appeared to be complete lack of understanding or reluctance by the proprietors to fall in line with the simplest code of hygiene both in connection with bakehouse facilities or construction, and it was inevitable that these premises would close themselves down, (as they did early in the following year) because of the large amount of monies required to bring the bakehouse up to modern standards.

During the year, the Department took successful prosecutions under the Caravan Sites and Control of Developements Act against a local licence holder, for stationing excess vans on the licensed site contrary to the site licence, and for stationing a caravan on unlicensed land adjacent to the main site. The licence holder was fined £10 in each case with £10 costs.

In conclusion, I would like to thank the Chairman and Members of the Health Committee for the assistance and understanding they have given me throughout the year,

Yours faithfully,

Edward L. Cobb,

Public Health Inspector.
